Experience

Javascript Developer, Innoserv Europe

November 2022 — Present

I am currently working as a Javascript developer at Innoserv Europe, where I contribute to the development of web applications using JavaScript, React, Next.js, Node.js, Docker, MariaDB, AWS, in an Agile environment. Responsible for designing and implementing high quality code, collaborating with cross-functional and international teams to deliver projects on time and ensuring functionality and usability of web applications.

- Successfully conceived, designed and implemented the company's website from scratch, demonstrating proficiency in web development, design, strategic thinking and project management. I used technologies such as Next.js, Typescript, Strapi CMS, AWS, GraphQL, Adobe Illustrator.
- Exponentially increased the speed of an invoice importer for a mobile communication and technology expense management web application by optimizing endpoints and reducing the number of api calls.
- Exponentially increased the performance of an easybox-like interface by refactoring gif animations into Rive (WebAssembly) based animations and svg animations, optimizing it for the limited computing power of the hardware it was running on.
